AMERICAN FENCE

What makes a good fence? Should it have wire hard as flint made with the highest carbon the same as the makers of American fence put into its piano wire? Or should it be a soft wire such as they put into their weaving wire that is sold to manufacturers of wire cloth? Neither—it should be a medium wire that many years' experience has shown to be exactly right for the purpose. The American Steel & Wire Co. makes every kind of wire that is used, beginning with its own mines, through its own furnaces and steel and wire mills and they know what is the right kind of steel to use for a fence. Trust their judgment.

Should a good fence have a rigid stay? No—we believe in the kind of joint that is strong, flexible, yielding to pressure like a spring bed and stopping back again to its place. Flexibility is its life. A pneumatic tire on a bicycle is more durable than a solid tire for this reason. American fences are made of large wire thoroughly galvanized and proof against weather.

Good Citizenship.

The interesting story was read by Dr. J. W. Young at a meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union on Thursday evening, October 13.

There is a danger that our work will be hindered and we will be black listed. This does not necessarily mean that we will be deprived of the right to work in our own country. Now from a detail of the following story every American is a good citizen.

The state fair at Montgomery is in full blast.

Texas began to shiver in the early of Jack Frost October 23rd.

It is said that the Passaic canal will be completed by 1913.

Over 2,000 registered voters showed for Keesha's recall, Ala.

There is one crop of oats that is extensively sown in all sections of the country—"Wild oats."

O. B. Wynn, a prominent lawyer has been elected mayor of Atlanta, defeating his opponent, James G. Woodard, by a substantial majority.

A Passaic dog was awarded damages in the sum of $50 for the death of a little red heifer. The dog was run over by one of the cars of the Passaic electric light company.

We give space this week to a well written and instructive paper on "Good Citizenship" by Dr. J. W. Dudley. It deserves a careful reading and a place in your scrap-book.

A Los Angeles, California, man, who didn't believe banks kept his money, $150,000, in a drawer, drew it out and now he wishes he had not touched the banks. "A fool and his money is soon parted."

The mercantile firm of Watson, Parker & Hoess has contracted for a page advertisement to appear daily for a month in the Passaic Journal. These experienced business men know that it pays to keep their business constantly before the eyes of the people and that the best place for the message is through which to do this.

The Passaic Three-Gazette special industrial edition of October 1st, was a splendid effort and does great credit to the publishers as well as to this home city. It was given typographically, while the verbiage of the different enterprises of the town left little else to be said. The Three-Gazette is one of the neatest and cleanest edited papers in the state, ANYWAY.

Spots and county elections every four years is what the Alabama Journal is wisely advocating. This is a good suggestion and one that would and should meet the approval of the voters of the state, not to mention the officers themselves. We have elections for office in Georgia, as this—George Eastman, of Georgia.

We have long thought that Alabama would adopt the four years plan and believe that it would meet with popular approval if the people were given an opportunity to vote on the question.

An intelligent and successful merchant of Florida, in speaking of his experience in making purchases for the family, said: "My five years experience in buying for the family, has taught me several things. I always watch the contents of some papers for advertisements, as the merchant who is liberal enough to advertise will be liberal enough to make me his patron." The inference being, that the merchant who is too close to advertise is too close to give the prices (reads good reasoning).

The first department of our city is an institution that deserves the appreciation and the besting care of our citizens. While not so fully equipped with firefighting apparatus as it might be, the department affords great protection to the city than many seem to realize. A suggestion by the ladies in honor of the fire fighters, a small appropriation occasionally by the City Fathers and other like tokens of good-will and appreciation of the really valuable services cheerfully and often heroically rendered, would not be unwise and would do much to encourage the boys in their noblest work.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Wood, of Montgomery, Ala., "and left me to care for my children. I had never before grown and felt, with the death of my father, was too much for me. I failed in health, I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for anything. I had the headache all the time and could hardly get up. A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, so I had done for so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

J. R. SHEPHERD
The Furniture Man.

D. L. Douglas, a married man of Lakewood, was probably fatally injured about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon last, by being caught under a lot of falling timber. He had just pushed a load of car about the track situated in the station, when the lumber tipped over and crushed Mr. Douglas to the ground with great force. Dr. Young of Florida, was summoned to the aid of the unfortunate man as soon as possible and upon examination the injuries sustained were found to be of such a serious nature that little hope of his recovery was entertained.

Mr. Douglas belongs to the R. of P. order and as such a representation of the order was requested the city, a member of that order, but at once for the locality of the injured man to render any assistance necessary.

Fight at Andalusia.

Andalusia, Oct. 22.—In an altercation between R. A. McLendon and Prof. H. M. O'Connell Thursday afternoon the latter was severely injured about the head and face with his leg broken. The difficulty started by McLendon striking O'Connell over the eye and knocking him down. By means of a chair leg the professor's leg was broken by the fall, others say that a kick by McLendon produced the broken leg. Mr. O'Connell is in Montgomery. He is principal of the public schools here. As a result of the unfortunate occurrence, a warrant has been issued out of the city clerk of Andalusia charging McLendon with assault and battery. A $1000 bond was set for $2,000 and also for $1,000 by O'Connell against McLendon in the circuit court. The alleged assault was by O'Connell on one of McLendon's children, who was a child in the school, was the cause of the trouble.

Your rough coverage you. Keep on working and teaching the millions of your country who are ignorant. If you want relief, work to be sure. Join the Chamber of Commerce.
