Dear Fellow Barrow Researcher:

I sincerely hope the information enclosed within the pages of this volume will be of assistance to you. I still have not determined for myself the exact connection, if any, the BARROW family has to my own lineage. There may be a connection between the Jake BARROW who married Unity FRANKLIN, dau. of Josiah FRANKLIN, & my own Jake FEASTER whose marriage led to his connection to the FRANKLIN family. Any additional data concerning these persons & possible links between them would be most appreciated as I'm sure information gleaned from these documents will be by you.

Sincerely,

Lisa R. Franklin

The town grew rapidly, and among the laws passed in 1837 was one to incorporate the town of Florence. This law stated it should include all of lot 90 and all functions of lots number 88 in the 22nd District.

Commissioners.

George Gilmer, Governor
William Tennille, Sec. of State
Joseph Day, Speaker of the House
Robert Echols, President of the Senate
Act passed Dec. 14, 1837.

The following items in the early deed books show some of the purchasers of lots in Florence. Henry W. Jernigan acting for the company as agent, sold to Smith and Winflow lot number one square P and part of square O. To Robert Smallwood, lot number 138 fronting Center Street; lot 139 to Mrs. Margaret Harvey. Ansel P. Rood, lots 58 and 59 in Square D; to Charles Chambers lot number 75 located in the corner of Broad and Center Streets for $800; to F. and T. Beall one lot in Square I, for $600—located on East Broadway. Other lots were sold to Drury M. Lester and James Williams; to H. G. Garrett, lot No. 77 in Square D on Broad Street. Others buying lots were: William Woodard, Henry Woodard, T. J. Chesterton, Dr. Hugh Reese, William Carr, Henry Jones, Dr. W. Callen, Mrs. Hellen McKee Watson, Brothers, John Ball, William Martin, Mrs. Epsie Beall, J. H. Keen and Junius Jordan lots 156 and 157 in Square R; Raymond Allison lot 148, Martin Burks, lot 135 in Square K.

There seems to have been some difference of opinion as to the name given the town. Sherwoods "The Georgia Gazette" published 1837 says that the name Liverpool was first borne by this village and that some shipping was done under this name; but when it came to a final decision by the appointed Commissioners, the name Florence was agreed on and this name came permanent. The Florence Company erected a bridge across the river. In deed book K on page 144 will be found a deed from Henry W. Woodard of Baltimore to William W. Woodard of Florence, deeding the interest of the former to the latter in the bridge at Florence, Ga., also lots nos. 149, 114, and no. 6, with all improvements in the town. This deed also called for an interest in a "Tanning Vat" there. The bridge was destroyed in the great of 1840. In the minutes of the Inferior Court of 1837, it was given to Allen Hill to build and operate a ferry near the bridge was located.

From Parks Antiquated Code we find that one of the first academies built in the county was at Florence, called the Florence Academy, which provided for the education of the boys. This academy was incorporated in 1837 and functioned for about 25 years when, tradition says, it was sold and moved to Lumpkin and used as a dwelling. It is now owned by E. C. Hobbs. Provision for the education of girls was made in the building of the Florence Independent Church and Female Academy. The first teacher at the former Institution was George W. McClerskey; at the latter, Margaret Harvey.

Florence Independent Church and Female Academy

The trustees and commissioners of Florence decided to erect a church and girls' academy for the town. The church was to be independent because the population of the town consisted of several denominations. Lot no. 3 in Square N on Eastern and Third streets measuring 297 ft. by 130 ft. was secured for this purpose. The story of the building of this church is interesting and its purposes are clearly outlined in the Deed of Trust recorded in book 1 in the office of the clerk of court. The following is a transcript of the deed:

"We, the undersigned, in behalf of the subscribing citizens, being desirous to erect a building which shall henceforth and forever answer the two-fold purposes to-wit: (1) As a Holy Temple devoted to the worship of God, and further as an academy for females; and do by these preambles to this deed of trust, publish and declare the object, intention, and purpose, to which said building shall be appointed, (2) The basement story to be an independent church, free for any respectable minister of the gospel of any denomination or any orthodox christian, to preach the gospel of Christ. (3) Application to preach at stated or irregular periods must be made to the chairman of the board of trustees, a majority of whom present shall be sufficient to give the required permission; no permission to last longer than one year. (4) Should any dispute between a minister or ministers or any other person of any denomination whatsoever, concerning any privilege of right to this building, a majority of joint trustees shall decide in all cases. (5) The second story shall be appropriated exclusively to female school purposes. (6) The basement story appropriated exclusively for worship, with the exception of the right of holding public examinations of the students of the Academy, or important public addresses, such as the celebration of the Anniversary of American Independence on the 4th of July.

Roanoke Chapter owns three acres of ground one mile north of Omaha, which is a part of Fort McCreary, where there are three graves of unknown soldiers killed in the Indian War of 1812.

The last Marker, to date, to be obtained by Roanoke Chapter is a bronze highway marker placed on State Route 1, pointing the way to the "Historic Loop" which leads to Providence Canyon.

Other historic spots have been located, Fort McCreary, mentioned above, Fort Jones and Oconee Indian Village, situated at the mouth of Hannahatchee Creek. Indian Trails have been traced and much historic research carried on throughout Stewart County. From the beginning, Roanoke Chapter has endeavored to perform a noble task and to keep alive the traditions of Stewart County rich in legends of the past.

Unveiling of Marker on Jackson's Trail

On July 4, 1929, a Marker was unveiled on the highway leading from Lumpkin to Richland, where the old Fort Gaines Road, Jackson's Trail crosses this public highway.

A beautiful boulder of Travertine was donated by H. M. Goldrey Marble Company, Cuthbert-Atlanta, on which is affixed a bronze plaque containing the following inscription:

"Jackson's Trail"

"Blazed 1818 by a detachment of Jackson's men under Col. Arthur P. Hayne, running north and south through this point. Early settlers came into this section along this trail known as the Gaines Road. Marked by the Roanoke Chapter D.A.R. in 1929."

GENEALOGY

The Padgett Family

About the year 1828, William Paget moved his family from South Carolina to Covington County, Alabama. He settled on the southeast side of the Conecuh River about one mile northeast of the present location of the Conecuh River Baptist Church. Here he built a house, cleared a farm, and lived for the remainder of his life. A large rock on the south bank of the Conecuh River near his home still bears his name. Nothing is known of William Paget before he came to Alabama except that he, his wife, and all their children were born in South Carolina (possibly Darlington County). The following is a list of William Paget's family:

William Paget	b10/28/1782	d01/03/1843
Elizabeth Paget	b1790	d12/03/1856
James (m Caroline Ward)	b05/12/1804	d1864	FA
Anna (m John Teel)	b09/11/1805
Levinia (m John Snowden)	b05/28/1807

Ire (died young)	b03/08/1815	d09/11/1821
Martha (m Simeon Ward)	b01/18/1818	dc1896	MC
Henry (m Anna Diamond)	b08/18/1820	d03/03/1904	CR
Elijah (m Nancy Liles)	b02/13/1823
Elizabeth (never married)	b05/17/1825	d01/24/1850

William Paget used the short form of spelling for his name; however, all his descendants except those of his oldest son, James, used the long form (Padgett).

At least four and possibly six of William Paget's children lived in Pea Ridge for some period of time after their marriages. One of his daughters, Martha, married Simeon Ward and lived in Pea Ridge for the remainder of her life.

William Paget's oldest son, James, married Caroline Ward, the daughter of Jesse and Margaret Ward soon after she had moved to Pea Ridge in the early 1830's. James and Caroline Paget initially settled in Pea Ridge, near the home of Jesse Ward. Here he farmed for a few years before moving up the Conecuh River and settling near Andalusia. He later moved to the vicinity of Red Level where he farmed, worked as a mechanic, and lived for the remainder of his life. Listed below are the members of James and Caroline Paget's family:

William Paget's oldest daughter, Anna, married John Teel on August 7, 1828. John Teel was born in South Carolina in 1792, and he apparently came to Alabama with the Pagets. John and Anna Teel may have lived in Pea Ridge for a few years around 1850, but for most of their lives they lived on the south side of the Conecuh River near the creek that bears his name. They reared the following children: John, b04/08/1829; James, b1830; Richard, b1834; Elizabeth, b1837; Jane, b1839; William, b1840; Henry, b1841 and Martha Ann, b1844.

Levinia Paget married John S. Snowden, the son of James Snowden, who had brought his family from Colleton County, South Carolina, to Conecuh County, Alabama, in the 1820's. James Snowden was born in North Carolina in 1771, but all his known children (John, b1806; Seaburn, b1808; Jesse, b1810 and James, b1813) were born in South Carolina. John and Levinia Snowden probably lived in Conecuh County near his father's home for a short period of time after their marriage. They also lived in Covington County near Red Level for a short time, but for most of their lives they lived on the south side of the Conecuh River near the Padgetts. John and Levinia Snowden reared the following children: Analiza, b1834; Wiley, b1836; Martha, b1837 and Marshall, b1837.

William Padgett, Jr. married Nancy Mock, the daughter of Little Berry and Jane Mock, around 1836. They initially settled and farmed in Covington County near the home of Nancy's brother, William Mock. William Padgett, Jr. died while his children were still young and his wife moved their family to Conecuh County, probably settling at her father's home site. Their only son, Henry, enlisted in Company D of the 23rd Alabama Infantry Regiment on November 17, 1861, and within one month he was dead. Nancy Padgett died before her children were grown. Below is a list of William and Nancy Padgett's family:

Wiley Padgett married Caroline Barrow, the daughter of John G. and Gatsey Ann Barrow.

John G. Barrow was born in North Carolina in 1800 but by 1820 he had moved to Escambia County, Florida, where, on April 1, 1822, he married the widow Gatsey Ann (Dunn) Gaines. Gatsey Ann Dunn was born in South Carolina in 1790. John G. Barrow moved his family from Escambia County, Florida, and settled on the bank of the Conecuh River near Montezuma in 1830. Here he farmed and operated a ferry across the Conecuh River for the remainder of his life. He and his wife reared the following children: Gatsey Ann, b1825 (m Joshua Dean); Jacob G., b1827; David S., b1829 (m Sarah Dean); Mary, b1831 (m David Foshee); Caroline, b1833 (m Wiley Padgett); Sarah Jane, b1834 (m William J. Riley); James M., b1836 (died young) and John Julian, b1839. John G. Barrow died in 1858 and his wife, in 1863.

Wiley and Caroline Padgett initially settled near Fairfield but later they moved to Conecuh County where Wiley worked as a mill overseer. Wiley and Caroline Padgett reared the following children: Mary b1849 (m Frank Hassell); William, b1850 and John, b1852. Caroline died in the 1850's. In 1863 Wiley Padgett joined the 6th Alabama Cavalry Regiment, and he fought in the west Florida-south Alabama campaign near the end of the war. He was captured and apparently died in military prison.

Henry Padgett married Anna Diamond, the daughter of Reubin and Elizabeth (Dixon) Diamond.

Reubin Diamond was one of the very first white settlers in Pea Ridge. He was born in South Carolina and his father was William Diamond. The Diamonds moved to Alabama before 1820 and settled in Monroe County. Reubin Diamond apparently married while living in Monroe County and then moved to Covington County in 1823 with his father-in-law, Jeremiah Dixon, a Revolutionary soldier. Jeremiah Dixon was born in England in the 1760's, but he later moved to North Carolina. On June 20, 1777 he enlisted as a Private in Capt. Nelson's Company of the 4th North Carolina Regiment for a period of three years. He also served in Capt. Sharp's Company of the 9th North Carolina Regiment from April 15, 1781 until April 15, 1782. Jeremiah Dixon probably married in the late 1780's and he lived in Pitt County, North Carolina until the late 1790's. He probably lived in South Carolina and possibly Georgia before moving to Monroe County, Alabama in 1819. After moving to Covington County, Jeremiah Dixon apparently lived near Fairfield until his death in 1839. All of his known sons had married before 1830 and were living in other parts of Covington and Conecuh counties except his oldest son, Seth, who lived in Pea Ridge until around 1850.

After moving to Covington County, Reubin Diamond settled near the home of his father-in-law where he cleared land, farmed, raised livestock, and later built one of the first sawmills in the area. Reubin and his wife, Elizabeth, raised the following family, and lived near Fairfield for the remainder of their lives.

Elijah Padgett, William Paget's youngest son, lived with his mother until her death. He married Nancy Liles, the daughter of Cassius and Rebecca Liles. Cassius Liles was born in Georgia in 1797 and was the son of John Liles. Cassius Liles was probably married while living in Wilcox County, Alabama, in the late 1820's. His wife, Rebecca, was born in South Carolina in 1800. After their marriage they lived in Wilcox County until the 1840's when they moved to Covington County and settled near the home of Abraham Smith. Cassius and Rebecca Liles raised the following children: Elizabeth, b1828; Mary Ann, b1829; Nancy, b1834; John, b1841; William E., b1846; Thomas, b1848 and Hampton, b1849. They had another daughter that died young.

Elijah and Nancy (Liles) Padgett settled on his father's place where they lived for the remainder of their lives. Here they reared the following children: Rebecca, b10/12/1855; Eliza Ann, b1860; James E., b1861; Nancy, b1864 and Susanna, b1868.

Blacks and Wartime Industrialization

Crenshaw Barrow pooled their resources by furnishing overseers and guards of slaves for a saltworks which Barrow operated in Florida. Confederate commissary officers needed thirty bondsmen in 1863 for a saltworks near Savannah, and offered wages of $20 per month plus "rations, medicine [sic], and proper medical attention," together with financial compensation to owners whose slaves were lost to the war.⁹³

These last inducements attest to the precarious labor situation in which Georgia salt producers found themselves. Few salt companies could function without black workers, but persuading skeptical masters to put out slaves for debilitating labor in close proximity to Union lines was no easy matter. In January 1863, for example, the Macon Salt Association's "inability to hire negro labor" led to a formal dissolution of the company. Stockholders "agreed to give up the concern to a new Association that will furnish the negroes themselves." Any original stockholders joined the new firm by appearing at a stipulated time with a designated portion of the required slave force "ready to be sent to the works."⁹⁴ Captain Lemuel P. Grant encountered even greater obstacles in attempts to establish a Confederate saltworks at the saline wells of Clarke County, Alabama. Hoping eventually to provide salt for government use throughout Georgia, Grant dispatched agents from Atlanta to recruit two hundred black laborers for preliminary grading and excavation at the Alabama site. The missions all proved futile, however, and during the spring and summer of 1863 the government employed an average of only five bondsmen at the Clarke County salines, most of whom Grant received from an Atlanta party in exchange for a contract to build duplicate railroad bridges. No salt was ever produced at the government site, and in August 1863 the project was abandoned.⁹⁵ Other salt companies succeeded in hiring black workers, only to lose them once operations began. During 1862 the Columbus Salt Association suffered a setback when eleven of its slaves defected to a Union blockading party off St. Joseph's Bay, Florida. Saltworks quickly became prime targets for naval attack, and throughout the war Georgia slaves availed themselves of the escape opportunities offered by Federal raiders. Black flight white male population," reported a Stewart County resident in September 1862. "Our Militia is disorganized & really the new [conscription] law will take most of it. We have no police arrangements & scarcely any men to execute the laws."¹¹ In June 1863 several citizens of the sixty-sixth militia district of Burke County complained that:

conscription and the Conscript Act, have deprived us of all our citizens who were capable of performing military service, . . . thus leaving us with a very sparse population, i.e. — in a scope of country (composed of the 66th, 67th & 68th District) 27 miles in length and twelve miles in breadth, we have now only about 140 white male citizens, between the ages of 16 & 60 years (and many of them are not able to perform any kind of military service) while we have a very large population of negroes.¹²

During this same period similar complaints came from David C. Barrow, a planter in Oglethorpe County, where over 75 percent of the white male population ultimately left to join the army. Barrow described the fact that along several miles of the Little River in the southern part of the county there were hundreds of slaves supervised by two white overseers and a few old and crippled men "not effective for militia duty." In another section of the county there were "not [white] men left liable to militia duty to provide Gov[ernor] Brown with officers." In this region also were hundreds of slaves and Barrow described the ratio of blacks to whites as "a good many to one." When the state was mobilized to help defend Atlanta during the summer of 1864, the agricultural districts lost their last remaining white overseers. In July, for example, a woman in rural Columbia County reported that the departure of the militiamen left only one able-bodied white man in a radius of ten miles.¹³

Although wartime slave patrols lost much of their effectiveness, it would be misleading to say that bondsmen went entirely unsupervised. Patrol arrangements for blacks in rural districts changed frequently during the war as legislators and other officials sought ways to offset the drain of civilian manpower. Late in 1862 the upper age limit of men subject to patrol duty was raised from forty-five to sixty years, long-term strategy to set the enlistment process in motion remains unclear. According to one observer, the "holding back of the owners" was the chief obstacle to slave recruitment, and there can be little doubt that many Georgia planters greeted the entire scheme with skepticism, if not open hostility.⁴⁷ Some, however, did respond favorably in the brief time before the South's final surrender. As early as March 1862 a meeting of citizens in Fort Valley assured Confederate leaders "we are prepared, whenever they shall ask it of us, to devote our lives to the maintenance of a cause which is already rendered doubly sacred by the blood of our kindred."⁴⁸ Later the same month Oglethorpe planter David C. Barrow sought permission from the president to organize a regiment of black troops. Barrow's son agreed that "patriotism renders every good citizen to support" the government's slave enlistment plan. He understood his father's "strong desire to see this movement succeed" but advised the elder Barrow against abandoning his agricultural interests to accept a military command.⁴⁹ Other prominent Georgians gave signs of closing ranks behind the Davis administration's initiative. No less outspoken a critic of black troops than Howell Cobb successfully helped execute the new law in his capacity as commander of the Georgia reserve forces. Cobb promised to aid David Barrow in securing a company of black recruits from the family's plantations in western Georgia. If necessary, the Cobbs were even prepared to send their white overseer along to serve as an officer for the former

III

AT THE END OF THE WAR it seemed clear that at least some white Georgians had begun marching to the beat of a different drummer in racial matters. But where were their footsteps leading? Could the South actually create a new model army composed of white freemen and black soldiers? The answer rested ultimately with thousands of individual Georgians upon whose voluntary aid Confederate leaders pinned their hopes.

COVINGTON COUNTY.

DAVID S. BARROW, planter and lumberman of Beat No. 6, was born near Pensacola, Fla., in 1828. He is a son of John G. and Catsie Ann (Dunn) Barrow, the former a native of Georgia and the latter a native of South Carolina. When yet a boy, John G. Barrow left home without having received any education and went to Pensacola, Fla., and there found work in a livery stable and hotel. He afterward married the widow Gainer (Miss Dunn). In about 1831, when our subject was three years old, his parents brought him to Covington county and settled in the woods near old Montezuma, the old county seat, where his father engaged in stock raising for some years, and later removed to Montezuma, and there engaged in the hotel business. After some years he returned to farming, milling and stock raising. The subject still owns the old mill site and operates a mill there. Mr. Barrow then devoted his time to the improvement of his farm, and spent the rest of his life upon it, driving his stock to different places to market. He died in February, 1858, about fifty-seven years old. He was one of the very first white settlers in this part of the country, living here several years before the Indians were removed, and being engaged in several expeditions against them. Mr. Barrow was a thoroughgoing, energetic and prosperous business man, and though of limited education, he was yet of sound judgment and was selected for office by his fellow-citizens several times, serving in the office of county commissioner for some years. He was a Missionary Baptist several years. Mrs. Barrow died in 1833. Of her people nothing is known. David S. Barrow was the third in a family of four sons and four daughters, viz.: Catsie Ann, deceased wife of Joshua Dean; Jacob G., of Conecuh county, served nearly all through the late war, was captured in Florida, and after a long imprisonment on Ship Island, served in the army of Virginia till the close of the war; the subject; Mary, wife of David Foshee, of Conecuh; Caroline, wife of Wiley Padget, both deceased, he dying during the war; Sarah Jane, wife of William J. Riley, both deceased; James M., deceased, and John J., who served all through the war and was neither wounded nor captured. The subject was reared in the wilds of Covington county, with no educational advantages. There was nothing in the neighborhood to read. According to his method of making a comparison between then and now, a child of to-day has better advantages along the public highway or along a mill path, where he can occasionally pick up a piece of newspaper or a cigarette box, than he had when a boy. He began life for himself upon attaining his majority, but remained under his father's charge and command until his father's death. He engaged in farming and merchandising and for some years ran a ferry. He married, in 1849, Sarah K., daughter of Ransom L. and Sarah Dean, both natives of Georgia. They came to Conecuh county at a very early day, and Mr. Dean was the first sheriff of that county, where his wife died January 27, 1863, and Mr. Dean died April 28, 1848. John C. Barrow was a farmer and school teacher, and educated his children at home. He was in comfortable circumstances when the war came on, but like thousands of others, lost heavily during the conflict. At his death he left nothing for his children. Mrs. Barrow was born in Conecuh county, and has had nine children, viz.: Zenobia, deceased wife of E. McKeever; Sarah, wife of S. A. Jones; Jephtha D., John Julian, Ella G., Eldora D. Three died in infancy. Mr. Barrow has lived in his present neighborhood for over sixty years and is one of the county's best known citizens. He is an extensive land owner, and has followed farming and milling all his life. He owns over 3,000 acres of fine timbered land, all of which he acquired by his own efforts. He still owns the old mill site where his father built two mills, the subject also having built two on the same site. He has recently opened up a fine place where he has excellent improvements. Early in the war he put a substitute in the field, paying him $2,500, but who afterward left, and then our subject was commissioned a captain by the state. He then recruited a company of seventy men, took them to Mobile as their captain, and continued in the recruiting service until the close of the war, a very dangerous line of service. He has been county commissioner six years since the war, and has frequently been solicited to run for office, but has as often declined. He was the first man made a Mason in this county and was a charter member of Fairmount lodge, No. 238, of which he was secretary for some years. He stands high as a member of the lodge. Mrs. Barrow has been a member of the Missionary Baptist church for many years. Mr. Barrow is doubtless the oldest resident of the county and well remembers the incidents of pioneer days. He is also very fond of reciting the history of early life in the county, and has a good memory and an extensive fund of anecdote and reminiscence. He is a very entertaining conversationalist and is very pleasing to the young.

Dear Ms. Carmichael:

From the Family Ties, of the Birmingham News, I noticed that you are seeking information on the Barrow and Lewis families.

As you can see from the ancestor chart enclosed, my maiden name was Barrow, and my maternal great grandmother was a Lewis.

I have been unable to determine who the parents of John Barrow, born 27 January 1841, were or where they lived prior to going to Florida. I hope that we are from the same line and that you can assist me.

I have not done very much searching on the Lewis family. My information so far indicates that Mary Jane Lewis was the daughter of Jesse Lewis. The 1850 census of Coffee Co, AL lists him as being 39 years of age and a laborer. His wife was Lucy, age 31, and children - Sarah - age 8, William - age 6, Elizabeth - Age 4 and Mary Jane - Age 2.

Are you aware of the Barrow Family Association of America? I attended the annual meeting in St. Francisville, Louisiana last Spring. There were over 100 in attendance. I'm sorry to say, that I was unable to make a direct contact with my line of Barrows. If you are interested, you might contact the Sec'y/Treas., Mrs. Rebecca C. Miller, 20111 Apache gardens, Katy, Texas 77449. The annual meeting this year is to be held in Williamsburg, Va. April 24th thru 26th.

I had a wonderful time, and it was fun talking with the different ones. I even felt that I could see some family resemblance with some of them even tho we couldn't make a connection.

I will be happy to exchange further information with you if you can make a connection with my line.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth B. Hughes

Dear Lisa,

Received your letter & family info. appreciate hearing from you. My ancestry is as follows

Dennis T. Barrow

Rory L. Barrow

then Thomas B. Barrow

father Josiah M. Barrow

father Jacob E. Barrow

grandfather John E. Barrow

I understand you are part of James Madison Barrow family, but did not understand who your parents or grandparents were.

I am 64 years old. Growing up in Red Level Ala so I know many of the people listed in your info. Effie I. Huggins was my Great Aunt. Her husband Terry was my grandmother's Barrow brother so I was blood kin to Effie & Terry and know all their children. 2 are still alive (Clarton & Willie married) see them occasionally and can put you in touch with them. Mother still has a son living in Red Level. Some of Halsey Foster's people are still there.

I am enclosing some census records that may be of interest to you. Most of my info came from Curtis Barrow. I have more census records of Concord & Co. Barrow if you want them.

Sincerely Dennis

 Dear Lisa,

Since I mailed your letter a couple of days ago, something else caught my eye. I noticed you had some Barrows in your line. I, too, have Barrows, but it's on the other side of my daddy's family.

Mary Jane Barrow married Samuel Frederick Stanton. She was born 1848/50 and died 1900. I think her parents were Jefferson and Catherine Barrow, but I haven't found any proof.

I don't know how much census searching you have done, but I'll list the 2 families that may connect with yours. If you know anything about Mary Jane, I would appreciate the lead.

 I have also enclosed the genealogy section from our newspaper. The inquirer is interested in the Franklin family. I don't know if these will tie into your line, but maybe they will.

Maybe we can get together soon. I may be going to Atlanta the first week of December. If so, I'll let you know, and maybe we can get together.

Sincerely,

Dear Lisa,

This is in response to your entry on page 107 of the July-August issue of The Genealogical Helper.

You asked for BARROW in South Alabama and JONES in North Alabama. Since the normal progression of movement often was from Georgia into Alabama and North (in the case of my family) I felt it worthwhile to see if we have any ancestors in common. I have/had a Great-Great Grandmother Mary Emily BARROW BURT who was born in 1830 in Upson County, Georgia, married John M. BURT, Jr. 4 August, 1850 in Carroll County Georgia, died 11 September, 1914 in Cullman County, Alabama. She had siblings: Mildred "Millie" who married Gideon SMITH, Martha A. F. BARROW m. Lamkin F. PLATT, Sarah Jane m. Charles SMITH, Mary Emily, John T. BARROW m. Mary (or Martha) M. SMITH, William Henry C. BARROW m. Mary Ella HIGHT, James Reeves BARROW m. Martha S. HOLMES. All the marriages took place in Carroll County, Georgia between 1844 and 1875. Most are buried in Carroll County, Georgia.

These were the children of The Reverend James BARROW and Lucinda "Lucy" BIVINS. James was born 25 December, 1801 in Washington County, Georgia son of Moses BARROW (Revolutionary War Veteran) and Mildred POWELL. James was a Baptist Preacher and sometimes preached in Alabama.

My Mother was a JONES. Her parents were born in Carroll County, Georgia. They left there about 1895 moving first to Louisiana, then about 1897 back to Cullman, Alabama. My Grandfather was Asa Andrew JONES, son of Samuel Thomas JONES, grandson of Steven Thomas JONES and Rebecca DAVIS. Steven and Rebecca were in Carroll County Georgia for the 1860 census and in Cleburne County, Alabama for the 1870 census. Both are buried in Verdon's Chapel Cemetery in Cleburne County, Alabama. Grandfather had siblings: Melissa Elizabeth m. SHOEMAKE, William Stephen m. KING, Henry T. m. Beulah I. MORGAN, James F. m. PARDEN, Miles Ammon m. PETTIS, Nancy Jane m. BATES, Mary Virgie m. COOK, and E. Luford m. MIXON. All died in Cullman, County Alabama.

Enclosing an SASE and hope to hear from you, Sincerely Mrs. Mary E. Byam

Hello:

I saw your ad in Gene. Helper for the Barrow family. I am trying to tie my G F James William Thomas Barrow to my G G F James Cullen Barrow. The Cullen in G H does not seem to be related.

I found a Cullen Barrow in Soundex miss in 1843 married a Charlotte Vaughn.

I am 1/2 way through 1870 census looking for my G.F. James W.T. Barrow as 1870 is not indexed it is slow.

4
Mrs Carol J. Barrow 1360 Marban Cl., N.E. Atlanta, Ga 30306, has the census index for the Barrows for ala, G.A. Texas, miss + Fl. They are $15.00 each.

There is a quarterly, on the Barrow family. By Mal Belle Barrow north 3098 Pleasant Ridge Road.

Summerfield, N.C. 27358. No add.

It is most of work, people have done.
It is very good. I have them from 1988 + index. They are $27.00 per year.
were $40.00, found a way to print them cheaper. Index are $7.00 each year. I also have the 5 Censuses. (States).

If I had your Barrow's first name I

Mrs. Carmichael,

This is some info. from the Barrow

for your James Barrow.

I wonder if you have checked David S
Barrow. His mother was Cascade Ann (nee Dunn) Gainer. This might shed some light on your James M. living with the Gainers.

Dear Lisa,

This is really late, I know, but I still want to say thank you for the BARROW material you sent in September, 1991.

When the material arrived my husband had become very ill, so I did not have time to do more than glance at it and it went into a stack with everything else that came in about then. His illness continued until his death in January of this year.

The past couple of weeks I have finally found time to attack that stack of mail. Some times it takes quite a while to even figure out what it is all about.

From the material you sent the BARROWS shown in the records of Baldwin County, Georgia appear to be mine. The James BARROW who named children Patience and son David and nephew Jacob was a brother to my 3rd Great Grandfather Moses BARROW. Maybe I can figure out how the others fit into this line.

Thank you for sending the information, and, again, I apologize for being so slow in acknowledging receipt of it.

Sincerely,

Mary

Chia,

I found your inquiry in the "ROOTS" of the Genealogical Helper, in reference to James M. Barrow.

I don't know if we have links to one other but my grandfather's birth name was Barrow, he was later adopted by Harry Charles Drayton, his is also the name I knew him by. He was born Sept. 14, 1899
Brooklyn, New York.

I have additional information and would be willing to correspond.
I look forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,

LISA CARMICHAEL

DEAR LISA,

Am ALWAYS glad to hear from other people that are researching BARROW. In your letter you did not say what your father was. It could not have been the Bham Lib since I have not been there in 2-3 years, AND NOW I CAN'T REMEMBER GIVING SOMEONE MY CARD.

The family group records you sent on the John Gray BARROW Line I have seen before AND I CAN'T MAKE A CONNECTION. I met A Dennis T. Barrow, 32680 SANDPIPER DR, ORANGE BEACH, AL 36561, who is descended from John Gray Barrow. you might want to write to him.

How ARE you connected to the Barrow Line,

You MUST HAVE TAKEN your list of BARROWS for the 1850 Census directly from the Census index. I Shows George W. BARROW Page 55. If you would look at Page 57 you would find this should be 48 the George W. Barrow listed on page 55 was living with the M M High Family was 18 yrs old. He was working on farm for them. He was the oldest son in Henry Barrow's family also born in GA.

the 1850 census did not list a wife. she must have died between 1845-1850.

I have not been able to find out where in GA my G.G. Grandfather Henry Barrow was from. In researching all that I could find in GA, I found in the Court House in Fayetteville, Fayette Co, GA A Marriage between Henry Barrow and Lucretia WATSON 2 Feb 1832. I can't prove that this is the same Henry as my G.G. Grandfather Henry Barrow. the 1860 Census of COUSA Co AL

the H.M. listed here is HORATIO MARY Barrow, my Great Grandfather. He joined the C.S.A. at age 17 in 1862 and lost his left leg in the battle of South Mountain in Maryland. He drew a check of 17.96 a month until he died in 1908. His widow FERRABA Ann Anderson Barrow drew a check until she died in 1938. I got this info from State Archives by MAIL. I have never been to the state Archives, do you go there, if you do and have some time see if you can find any thing on a Henry BARROW born GA, died 1866 in Equality, AL in COUSA Co.

In the 1860 Census of COUSA Co AL there were three other Barrow families that were living

I Have not been able to connect my family with these 3 Barrow's listed on page 103 and page 136. They must have been related because they lived so close.

If you would like to join the "BARROW Family Association of America" write to Mrs Mae Belle Barrow North at 3098 Pleasant Ridge Summerfield N.C. 27358. I joined when it was started in 1987. We have Annual Meetings. In 1992 the Meeting will be in Williamsburg Va. You can tell me North that I told you about this.
